

EVOLUTION OF INTEGRATION OF COMPUTER EDUCATION IN THE CHEMICAL ENGINEERING CURRICULUM

Kevin F. Loughlin and Abdullah A. Shaikh

Department of Chemical Engineering
King Fahd University of Petroleum & Minerals,
Dhahran 31261, Saudi Arabia.

ABSTRACT

The objectives of this paper are to categorize the development of computer education in the chemical engineering curriculum and to postulate future developments. A brief history of the past developments is presented. This is followed by an outline of the present day requirements in the chemical engineering curriculum. Future developments and changes that probably need to be incorporated in the curriculum are proposed.