

Top Ten Reasons to Become a Statistician

10. Deviation is Normal
9. We feel Complete and Sufficient.
8. We are “mean” lovers.
7. Statisticians do it discretely and continuously.
6. We never have to be right, only close.
5. We can legally comment on someone’s posterior distribution.
4. Estimating parameters is easier than dealing with real life.
3. We never have to say we are certain.
2. We are honestly significantly different.
1. Statisticians are Normal, everyone else is skewed.