

2.1 Use of Startup Options to Customize MS Access Environment

Why to use Startup options?

The options allow the developer to:

- Have their own application's title on the main window instead of Microsoft Access.
- Removing Microsoft Access's toolbars, database window etc. from the screen to get full control over user application access.

Hands On 1

Making use of startup options (Tools/ Startup), produce a professional look to your application.

1. Open the Startup Option dialogue, by clicking Tools/ Startup.
2. Check different options to have a fully customized environment of your Access application.

Note: For bypassing the startup options in order to work on the application design, press Shift + Click the application (.mdb) icon.
