

in, on, at, for, from = _____
verb = _____

It (be) _____ a warm day _____ June. The sun (shine) _____, a gentle wind (blow) _____, and a cat called Felix (walk) _____ through the countryside when he (see) _____ a house. He (feel) _____ hungry because he (have) _____ no money, so he (decide) _____ to ask the owner of the house _____ a job catching mice.

“Please,” he said. “Give me a job, please.”

But the man (not be) _____ interested.

“No,” he shouted. “I’ve got no mice and I don’t want any cats hanging around here.”

Then he (kick) _____ Felix out of the house. Felix the cat (run) _____ away. Then, he (have) _____ an idea. He (steal) _____ some cheese _____ a shop, and (start) _____ looking _____ some mice. He (find) _____ some mice.

While the mice (look) _____ him, he (show) _____ them the cheese.

“If you want some cheese, just follow me,” he said.

The mice (start) _____ running after him. While they (chase) _____ him, he (turn) _____ round and (shout) _____.

“Come _____, shake a leg!”

Felix (bring) _____ the mice to the man’s house, and (throw) _____ the cheese inside. The mice (rush) _____ into the house. When Felix (look) _____ inside the house, the man (hang) _____ the electric light and the mice (eat) _____ all his food. Eventually, the man (come) _____ out of the house and (beg) _____ Felix to work _____ him, catching mice.

“And if you stay here, you’ll have a home _____ the rest of your life,” he said.