

Calculate the torque exerted on the circular loop due to the square loop (assume r is much larger than R or b). If the circular loop is free to rotate, what will its equilibrium orientation be?

