

Research related to Pilgrimage (Hajj)

1. Al-Haboubi, M., and Al-Senan, S. 1992. Optimizing the utilization of space in a congested corridor: The Pilgrimage to Mekka, Transportation Planning and Technology, Vol. 16, 209-219.
2. Al-Haboubi, M., and Selim, S., 1997. A design to minimize congestion around the Ka'aba, Computers and Industrial Engineering ,Vol.32 ,No.2, 419-428.
3. Al-Haboubi, M.1998. Designing the area required for praying in a mosque. Arabian Journal for Science and Engineering,Vol.23, No. 1B,103-109
4. Al-Haboubi, M. 1999. Optimizing Modal Split during Pilgrims' Movement from Arafat to Muzdallifa (Ifadhha) . Arabian Journal for Science and Engineering , Vol.24, No. 1B,95-102
5. Al-Haboubi, M. 2003. A new layout design for the Jamarat area(stonning the devil) during Hajj, Arabian Journal for Science and Engineering, Vol. 28, NO. 2B, 131-142
6. Al-Haboubi, M. Designing the interior of a bus for pilgrims. Submitted
7. Al-Haboubi, M., 1989. Determination of percentage distribution of various modes of transportation during 'Rush Hours' at Al-Hajj period, proceedings of Al-Hajj Transportation Symposium, Makka, 145-159 (In Arabic).
8. Al-Haboubi, M., 1990. Towards finding the optimum number of police cars and ambulances during Al-Hajj period, proceedings of Transportation Safety in Al-Hajj Symposium, Makka, 21-30 (in Arabic).
9. Al-Haboubi, M. and Selim, S. 1997. Modeling the Flow of Pilgrims around Ka'aba (TAWAF). Proceeding of the 15th Computer National Conference, Dhahran, Saudi Arabia,521-534
10. Al-Haboubi, M. and Shublaq,E.2004. Simulation to perform Umrah, Proceedings of Fourth Symposium of Hajj Research, Makkah, Saudi arabia, CD-Rom
11. Al-Haboubi,M. 2005. A new Layout design for the Jamarat area.Proceedings of the Fifth Sceintific Symposium For Hajj Research,Makkah,Saudi arabia
12. Simulation of Nafra from Arafat , Project to Ministry of Hajj, 2000. (Co-investigator)