

Use Maxwell's stress tensor to determine the net force on the "northern" hemisphere of a uniformly charged solid sphere of radius R and charge Q . Assume the sphere is located at the origin. As your volume, use a cylinder of radius R and height R coaxial with the z axis with its base located on the xy plane.